* This woman was afterwards in abject poverty, and applied several times for out-relief, which was refused. It was, however, very well known that the relief in this case arose from an intelligent [illegible] other officers who had very long service but who were, of course to be retired also, for the most part on [illegible] given to such cases.

† Entertained by the guardians, 25th January 1881. Ordered by the Local Government Board, 4th February 1881, on the grounds that too long a time had elapsed from date of resignation
